

Brent Brander

Tribal Affiliation: Chickasaw

“I've always loved art. From an early age I could draw things and people loved them. I followed my dream and went to art school. My plan was to get a degree in commercial art/ advertising. My teachers often tried to get me to change my emphasis to painting. Being hard headed, I continued with advertising. Now, after a successful 35+ year career in advertising, I've given in to my teachers' wishes.”

38—Color Field by Brent Brander